 - (b) there has been any relevant change of circumstances since the decision was given; or
 - (c) the decision was based on the decision of any question to which Article 33(5) of the Law applies, and the decision of that question is revised.²²

- (3) On receipt of any such application, the determining officer shall proceed to deal with or refer any question arising thereon in accordance with the provisions of this Order.
- (4) Any decision given on a review under this Article, and any refusal to review a decision under this Article, shall be subject to redetermination or appeal in like manner as an original decision, and the provisions of this Order shall, subject to the necessary modifications, apply in relation to any decision given on such a review as they apply to the original decision of a question.²³

16 Review of decisions of the Royal Court

If, in any case in which a decision has been given by the Royal Court with respect to a matter which has formed the subject of an appeal to the Court under Article 14, it appears to the Minister that the decision might properly be reconsidered in view of further information which has been brought to the Minister's notice since the date on which the decision was given as to the circumstances existing at the time by reference to which it was given, the Minister may cause the decision to be referred to the Royal Court for reconsideration, and the Court may revise the decision.

17 Review of decision involving payment or increase of benefit

 - (b) in the case of short term incapacity allowance, as from the date 10 days before the application for the review;
 - (ba) in the case of long term incapacity allowance where a review is carried out on either of the grounds stated in Article 34D(2) of the Law, the medical board carrying out the review may direct that its decision has effect from the date beginning on which the aggravation is determined, by the medical board carrying out the review, to have occurred;

- (ii) that throughout the period between the earlier date and the date on which the application for review was made, there was good cause for delay in making the application, the claimant shall not be disqualified by virtue of the foregoing provisions of this paragraph for receiving any benefit to which the claimant would have been entitled in respect of the said period.²⁴

- (2) Notwithstanding anything contained in this Article, the following provisions shall have effect –

- (b) the decision on review shall not in any event have effect for any period before the date on which the original decision took effect or would have taken effect if an award had been made;

- (2) Where, by virtue of an award, an increase of benefit has been paid for any period to one person in respect of another as being the wife or husband, or an adult dependant, of the first-mentioned person, and by reason of a subsequent decision either –
- (a) the said other person is himself or herself entitled to benefit for that period; or
 - (b) a third person is entitled to benefit for that period in respect of the said other person in priority to the first-mentioned person, then, notwithstanding that under any Order relating to overlapping benefits made under Article 28 of the Law such increase of benefit is not payable, the subsequent decision shall direct that it shall be treated as having been properly paid for that period and that any arrears of benefit for that period payable by reason of the subsequent decision shall be reduced to the extent to which the increase of benefit is so directed to be treated as having been properly paid.

 - (b) is not directed to be treated as paid on account of the benefit awarded by the decision on review or appeal:
