 - (ii) that any one of the transfers taken alone is one in relation to which it has not been established in accordance with paragraph 15(1)(c) of the Schedule that a settlement bank has agreed to make a payment;
 - (b) that registration of all of the transfers would result in each of the persons identified in the operator's instructions as a transferor having title to a number of units of a security equal to or greater than nil; and
 - (c) that the combined effect of all the transfers taken together would result in paragraph 15(1)(c) of the Schedule being satisfied.
- (3) Where an authorized operator notifies an issuer that transfers are linked transfers, the issuer may –
 - (a) register the combined effect of all the transfers taken together; or
 - (b) register all the transfers simultaneously.
- (4) Paragraph (3) applies even though that there may be fewer uncertificated units of the security registered in the name of a person identified in any one of the operator's instructions as a transferor than the number of uncertificated units to be transferred from him or her.
- (5) However, paragraph (3) does not apply in any case in which –
 - (a) registration of the combined effect of the linked transfers or simultaneous registration of all the transfers (as the case may be) would not result in each of the persons identified in the operator's instructions as a transferor having title to a number of uncertificated units of the security equal to or greater than nil;
 - (b) one or more of the transfers constituting the linked transfers may not be registered, by virtue of the circumstances specified in any of subparagraphs (a), (b), (c) and (d) of Article 22(1); or
 - (c) one or more of the transfers constituting the linked transfers are to be refused registration by virtue of Article 23.

27 Position of transferee before entry on register

- (1) At the time when an operator's instruction is generated that will require an issuer to register on a register of securities a transfer of title to any uncertificated units of a security constituted under the law of Jersey –

- (a) the transferee shall acquire an equitable interest in the requisite number of uncertificated units of the security of the kind specified in the operator's instruction in which the transferor has an equitable interest by virtue of this Article, or in relation to which the transferor is recorded on the relevant register of securities as having title; and
- (b) the equitable interest shall subsist until the time specified in paragraph (3).
- (2) For the purposes of paragraph (1)(a), it shall not be denied, solely by reason of the fact that the transferor acquired his or her equitable interest by virtue of that subparagraph at the same time as the transferee's equitable interest arose in that interest, that the transferee has obtained the equitable interest to which that subparagraph refers.
- (3) An interest acquired under paragraph (1) shall subsist until the time when the transferee is entered on the register of securities in respect of the transfer of units to him or her, except in the case in which under Article 26(3)(a) an issuer registers the combined effect of linked transfers.
- (4) In the case in which under Article 26(3)(a) an issuer does register the combined effect of linked transfers, an interest acquired under paragraph (1) shall subsist until the time when the combined effect of all the linked transfers is registered.
- (5) Paragraphs (3) and (4) are subject to any enactment or rule of law that provides otherwise.
- (6) This Article has effect even though the units to which the operator's instruction relates or in which an interest arises by virtue of paragraph (1), or any of those units, may be unascertained.
- (7) However, this Article does not in any other respect confer a proprietary interest (whether of the kind to which paragraph (1) refers or any other kind) in units of a security where the conferring of such an interest at the time specified in this Order would otherwise be void by or under an enactment or rule of law.
- (8) In this Article –
- “A” means the number of uncertificated units in relation to which the transferor is recorded on the register of securities as having title;
- “B” means the number in which the transferor has an interest by virtue of paragraph (1);
- “C” means that number of units in which such interests subsist in favour of a third party by virtue of an earlier operator's instruction requiring an issuer to register, on a register of securities, a transfer of title to those units;
- “requisite number” means –
- (a) the number of units that are specified in the operator's instruction; or
- (b) $A + B - C$,
- whichever is lower at the time when the operator's instruction is sent;
- “transferee” means the person identified in the operator's instruction as the transferee;
- “transferor” means the person identified in the operator's instruction as the transferor.

- (1) An issuer shall not change a unit of a participating security from uncertificated form to certificated form, except in one of the sets of circumstances specified in paragraph (2).
- (2) The sets of circumstances to which paragraph (1) refers are –
 - (a) where it is permitted by the rules made and practices instituted by an authorized operator in order to comply with paragraph 13 or paragraph 19(2) or (3) of the Schedule;
 - (b) following receipt of an operator's instruction requiring the conversion into certificated form of uncertificated units of a participating security registered in the name of a member of the computer system;
 - (c) subject to Articles 21 and 22, following receipt of an operator's instruction requiring the registration of a transfer of title to uncertificated units of a security to a person who is not a member of the computer system; or
 - (d) on the registration, in accordance with Article 41(2), of an offeror who is not a member of the computer system as holder of the units of the security to which that Article refers.
- (3) In the circumstances specified in any of sub-paragraphs (b), (c) and (d) of paragraph (2) –
 - (a) an issuer shall record on the register of securities that the units of the security are held in certificated form;
 - (b) if a certificate can be issued for the security, the issuer shall issue a certificate in respect of the units of the security to the relevant person; and
 - (c) the issuer shall in any event notify the authorized operator that the units are no longer held in uncertificated form.
- (4) Article 50(1) of the Law (to the extent that that paragraph requires a company to complete share certificates and have them ready for delivery after a transfer of shares) shall apply in the circumstances specified in any of sub-paragraphs (b), (c) and (d) of paragraph (2), in relation to the issue of a certificate by an issuer pursuant to paragraph (3)(b), as it applies in relation to the completion and readiness for delivery by a company of share certificates.
- (5) In Article 50(1) of the Law, as it applies by virtue of paragraph (4), the reference to the date on which the transfer was lodged with the company is a reference to –
 - (a) the date on which the issuer received the operator's relevant instruction; or
 - (b) where relevant, the date on which the issuer registered the offeror as holding the units of the security to which Article 41(2) of this Order refers.
- (6) Where an issuer fails to comply with paragraph (3) in accordance with the requirements in paragraphs (4) and (5), the issuer and his or her officers shall be liable to the same criminal and civil sanctions as apply to a company and its officers in the event of a default in complying with Article 50(1) of the Law.
- (7) Paragraph (6) is subject to Article 44 of this Order.

29 Conversion of securities into uncertificated form

- (1) An issuer shall not change a unit of a participating security from certificated form to uncertificated form, except in one of the sets of circumstances specified in paragraphs (3) and (4).
- (2) Paragraphs (3) and (4) are subject to paragraphs (5) and (6).
- (3) The first set of circumstances to which paragraph (1) refers is where the unit of the participating security is held by a member of the computer system, and –
 - (a) the issuer has received a request in writing, in the form required by the rules made and practices instituted by the authorized operator in order to comply with paragraph 13 of the Schedule, to register the member as holding the unit in uncertificated form; and
 - (b) the issuer has also received the certificate relating to the certificated unit that is to be converted into uncertificated form.
- (4) The second set of circumstances to which paragraph (1) refers is where the unit of the participating security is to be registered on a register of securities in the name of a member of the computer system, following a transfer of the unit to the member from another person, and –
 - (a) the issuer has received by means of the authorized operator's system an instrument of transfer in favour of the member relating to the unit to be transferred;
 - (b) the issuer has also received by means of the operator's system the certificate relating to the certificated unit that is to be transferred and converted into uncertificated form; and
 - (c) the issuer may accept, by virtue of the rules made and practices instituted by the operator in order to comply with paragraph 13 of the Schedule, that the member to whom the unit is to be transferred wishes to hold it in uncertificated form.
- (5) The requirements in paragraphs (3) and (4) that the issuer shall have received a certificate relating to the unit of the participating security shall not apply in a case where the member or transferor (as the case may be) does not have a certificate in respect of the unit to be converted into uncertificated form because no certificate has yet been issued to the member or transferor.
- (6) The requirement in paragraph (4) that the issuer shall have received an instrument of transfer relating to the unit of the participating security shall not apply in a case in which, for a transfer of a unit of that security, no instrument of transfer is required.
- (7) In the set of circumstances specified in paragraph (3), on receiving the document or the documents (as the case may be) that are required for that set of circumstances to apply, the issuer shall within 2 months –

 - (b) send the authorized operator an instruction informing the authorized operator of the entry on the relevant register of securities.

- (8) In the set of circumstances specified in paragraph (4), on receiving the document or the documents (as the case may be) that are required for that set of circumstances to apply –
- (a) the issuer shall record that the member holds the unit, and enter on the register of securities that the member holds the unit in uncertificated form; and
 - (b) the member shall then, within 2 months, send the authorized operator an instruction informing the authorized operator of the entry on the register of securities.
- (9) Where an issuer fails to comply with paragraph (7) or (8), the company shall be liable to the same sanctions as apply to a company in the event of a default by it in complying with Article 42(5) of the Law.

30 New issues in uncertificated form

- (1) An issuer may issue units of a participating security in uncertificated form to a person if, but only if, that person is a member of the computer system.
- (2) For the purposes of calculating the number of new units to which a member of the computer system is entitled, an issuer may treat a member's holdings of certificated and uncertificated units of a security as if they were separate holdings.
- (3) On the issue in uncertificated form of new units of a participating security, the issuer shall by an instruction notify the authorized operator –
 - (a) of the persons to whom the uncertificated units of a security have been issued; and
 - (b) of the number of those units issued to each of those persons.

 - (b) that he or she has sent it.

33 Right of addressees to rely on instructions

- (a) the information contained in the instruction was correct;
 - (b) the user or authorized operator identified in the instruction as having sent the instruction did send it; and
 - (c) if the instruction was expressed to have been sent on behalf of a person, it was sent with the authority of that person.
- (2) This Article is subject to Article 34.

34 Restrictions on right to rely on instructions

- (1) An addressee shall not be allowed to accept any of the matters specified in Article 33 where, at the time when he or she received the authenticated computer instruction, he or she was a person who was not either an issuer or a sponsor receiving (in either case) authenticated computer instructions on behalf of an issuer, and he or she had actual notice –
- (a) that any information contained in it was incorrect;
 - (b) that the user or authorized operator expressed to have sent the instruction did not send it; or
 - (c) if the instruction was expressed to have been sent on behalf of a person, that the person had not given to the operator or sponsor identified in the instruction as having sent it his or her authority to send the instruction on his or her behalf.
- (2) An addressee shall not be allowed to accept any of the matters specified in Article 33 where, at the time when he or she received the authenticated computer

- (a) he or she was an authorized operator; and
 - (b) the instruction related to a transfer of units of a security that was in excess of any limit imposed by virtue of paragraph 12 of the Schedule.
- (4) However, where an addressee has received actual notice of a kind to which this Article refers in respect of an authenticated instruction, he or she may accept the matters specified in Article 33 if at the time when he or she received the actual notice it was not practicable for him or her to halt his or her processing of the instruction.

35 Liability in respect of acceptance of instructions

- (1) A person who is permitted by Article 33 or 34(4) to accept any matter shall not be liable in damages or otherwise to any person by reason of his or her having relied on the matter that he or she was permitted to accept.

 - (b) it was not sent from the computers of the user or the computers comprising the authorized operator's system (as the case may be) from which it is expressed to have been sent.

- (2) For the purposes of Article 37, an act is a causative act if, not being a computer instruction and not being an act that causes a computer instruction to be sent from the computer of a user, it unlawfully causes the authorized operator to send an instruction to an issuer.
- (3) For the purposes of Article 37, an operator's instruction is an "induced operator's instruction" if it is an instruction to an issuer that results from a causative act or a hacker's instruction.

37 Liability for hackers' instructions and induced operator's instructions

- (1) Where, as a result either of a hacker's instruction that does not result in an induced operator's instruction or of an induced operator's instruction, any one of the following events occurs, namely –

 - (b) the number of units of a security in relation to which the name of any person is entered on a register of securities is increased or reduced, or remains unaltered; or
 - (c) the description of any units of a security in relation to which the name of any person is entered on a register of securities is changed, or remains unaltered,and that person suffers loss as a result, he or she may apply to the Court for an order that the authorized operator compensate him or her for his or her loss.
- (2) It is immaterial for the purposes of paragraph (1) whether the event is permanent or temporary.
- (3) The Court shall not make an order under paragraph (1) where the authorized operator identifies a person as being responsible (whether alone or with others) –
 - (a) for the hacker's instruction (in any case in which it does not result in an induced operator's instruction); or
 - (b) for the causative act or hacker's instruction (in any case in which it does result in an induced operator's instruction),as the case may be, even if it is impossible (for whatever reason) for the applicant to obtain satisfactory compensation from that person.
- (4) The Court shall not award compensation under this Article where the authorized operator shows that an issuer would be liable under Article 43 to compensate the applicant for the loss in respect of which the application is made, by reason of the issuer's contravention of Article 21(1).
- (5) The Court may award to an applicant compensation for –
 - (a) each hacker's instruction (not being one resulting in an induced operator's instruction); and
 - (b) each induced operator's instruction,that result in the occurrence of an event to which paragraph (1) refers.
- (6) However, the Court shall not award to an applicant more than £50,000 for each hacker's instruction or induced operator's instruction.
- (7) In respect of liability arising under this Article, the Court shall act as follows –

- (a) in awarding compensation, it shall only order the authorized operator to pay such amount of compensation as appears to the Court to be just and equitable in all the circumstances, having regard to the loss sustained by the applicant as a result of the hacker's instruction or induced operator's instruction;
 - (b) in ascertaining the loss, it shall apply the same rules concerning the duty of a person to mitigate his or her loss as apply to damages recoverable at law; and
 - (c) if it finds that the loss was to any extent caused or contributed to by any act or omission of the applicant, it shall reduce the amount of the award by such proportion as it thinks just and equitable, having regard to that finding.
- (8) An application to the Court for an order under this Article shall not affect any right of the authorized operator to recover any sum from a third party.
- (9) This Article does not affect any liability or right that a person may incur or have apart from this Article.
- (10) Where an application is made under paragraph (1), and the authorized operator receives from the applicant a request for information or documents relating to –

- (g) that the possibility for a user to send a computer instruction on behalf of a person from whom he or she has no authority is minimized.

6-13 System capabilities

6

A computer system must ensure that the operator's system can send and respond to authenticated computer instructions in sufficient volume and with sufficient speed.

7

Before an operator's instruction to an issuer to register a transfer of uncertificated units of a security is generated, a computer system must be able –

- (a) to establish that the transferor is likely to have title to or (by virtue of Article 27(1)) an interest in such number of units of the security as is in aggregate at least equal to the number to be transferred; or
- (b) to notify the issuer in accordance with Article 26(1) that the transfer is one of 2 or more transfers that may be registered in accordance with paragraph (3) of that Article.

8

A computer system must maintain adequate records of all computer instructions.

9

A computer system must be able –

- (a) to permit each of its members to obtain a copy of any records relating to the member as are maintained by the computer system in order to comply with paragraph 7(a) or 8 of this Schedule; and
- (b) to make correcting entries in such records that are maintained in order to comply with paragraph 7(a) of this Schedule as are inaccurate.

10

A computer system must be able to establish, where there is a transfer of uncertificated units of a security to a member for value, that a settlement bank has agreed to make payment in respect of the transfer, whether alone or taken together with another transfer for value.

11

A computer system must ensure that the operator's system is able to generate –

- (a) the operator's instructions requiring issuers to amend the appropriate registers of securities kept by them; and
- (b) the operator's instructions informing settlement banks of their payment obligations.

12

(1) A computer system must enable a member –

- (a) to grant authority to a sponsor to send authenticated computer instructions on his or her behalf; and
- (b) to limit such authority by reference to the net value of the units of securities to be transferred in any one day.

(2) A computer system must prevent the transfer of units in excess of that limit.

13

A computer system must enable members –

- (a) to change the form in which they hold or are to hold units of a participating security; and
- (b) where appropriate, to require issuers to issue certificates relating to units of a participating security held or to be held by them.

14-18 Operating procedures14

A computer system must comprise procedures that provide that it responds only to authenticated computer instructions that are attributable to a participant or an operator.

- (1) A computer system must comprise procedures that provide that an operator's instruction requiring an issuer to register a transfer of uncertificated units of a security, or informing a settlement bank of its payment obligations in respect of such a transfer, is generated only where –
 - (a) it has received a member's instruction from the transferor, or it has been required to do so by a court or by or under an enactment;
 - (b) it has established –

- (i) that the transferor is likely to have title to, or is likely to have by virtue of Article 27(1), an interest in such number of units as is in aggregate at least equal to the number to be transferred, or
 - (ii) that the transfer is one of 2 or more transfers that may be notified to the participating issuer in accordance with Article 26(1);
 - (c) in the case of a transfer to a member for value, it has established that a settlement bank has agreed to make payment in respect of the transfer, whether alone or taken together with another transfer for value; and
 - (d) the transfer is not in excess of any limit that, by virtue of paragraph 12(1)(b) of this Schedule, the transferor has set on an authority given by him or her to a sponsor.
- (2) A computer system must also comprise procedures that provide that an operator's instruction requiring an issuer to register a transfer of uncertificated units of a security, or informing a settlement bank of its payment obligations in respect of such a transfer, may be generated where necessary to correct an error and if in accordance with the rules and practices of the operator instituted in order to comply with this Schedule.

- (1) A computer system must comprise procedures that provide that an operator's instruction to an issuer relating to a right, privilege or benefit attaching to or arising from an uncertificated unit of a security, is generated only where –
- (a) it has received an authenticated computer instruction that is attributable to the member having the right, privilege or benefit requiring the operator to generate an operator's instruction to the issuer; or
 - (b) it has been required to do so by the Court or by or under an enactment.
- (2) A computer system must also comprise procedures that provide that an operator's instruction to an issuer, relating to a right, privilege or benefit attaching to or arising from an uncertificated unit of a security, may be generated where necessary to correct an error and if in accordance with the rules and practices of an operator instituted in order to comply with this Schedule.

A computer system must comprise procedures that ensure that, if the computer system maintains records in order to comply with paragraph 15(1)(b)(i) of this Schedule, the records are regularly reconciled with the registers of securities maintained by issuers.

18

A computer system must comprise procedures that –

- (a) enable users to notify the operator of an error in or relating to a computer instruction; and
- (b) ensure that, where the operator becomes aware of an error in or relating to a computer instruction, he or she takes appropriate corrective action.

19-21 Rules and practices19

- (1) An operator's rules and practices must bind members and issuers –
 - (a) so as to ensure the efficient processing of transfers of title to uncertificated units of a security in response to operator's instructions; and
 - (b) as to the action to be taken where transfer of title in response to an operator's instruction cannot be effected.
- (2) An operator's rules and practices must make provision for an issuer to cease to participate in respect of a participating security so as –
 - (a) to minimize so far as practicable any disruption to members in respect of their ability to transfer the relevant security; and
 - (b) to provide the issuer with any relevant information held by the operator relating to uncertificated units of the relevant security held by members.
- (3) An operator's rules and practices must make provision for the orderly termination of participation by members and users whose participation is disruptive to other members or users or to issuers.
- (4) If an operator's rules and practices make provision for the designation of a subsidiary undertaking as a relevant nominee, they must require that the relevant nominee maintain –
 - (a) adequate records of the names of the persons who have an interest in the securities it holds; and
 - (b) adequate records of the nature and extent of their interests.

20

- (1) An operator's rules and practices must require that each user is able to send and receive authenticated computer instructions.
- (2) An operator's rules and practices must require that –
 - (a) each member has arrangements for authenticated computer instructions attributable to him or her to be sent;
 - (b) each member has arrangements for authenticated computer instructions to be received by or for him or her; and
 - (c) each member has arrangements with a settlement bank for payments to be made, where appropriate, for units of a security transferred by means of the computer system.
- (3) An operator's rules and practices must require that each issuer is able to respond with sufficient speed to operator's instructions.

21

An operator must have rules that require users and former users to provide him or her with such information in their possession as he or she may require in order to meet his or her obligations under this Order.
